

UNION NATIONAL BANK TEMPORARILY CLOSES

CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENT.

Official statement of the Oakland Clearing-house Association, made this morning:

"Finding that the difficulty in realizing on their assets would make it impossible to meet the immediate demands on their resources, the Union National Bank applied to the Oakland Clearing-house for assistance.

"The Clearing-house Committee has taken the matter under advisement and will, during the legal holidays, determine to what extent it will be justified in coming to their assistance."

BANK WAS SOLID WHEN SOLD TO J. DALZELL BROWN

The Union National Bank was in exceptional condition December 31, 1906. On that date seventy-five per cent of its deposits on hand were in available cash.

At this date Thomas Fraher sold control of the bank to J. Dalzell Brown and associates. Mr. Edson F. Adams also sold his stock and resigned as director. Then Mr. Fraher disposed of his interest in the bank.

Later on John Charles Adams sold his stock and resigned as director.

CLEARING HOUSE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ASSETS

The Union National Bank, one of the oldest banking institutions in Oakland, took advantage of the legal holidays today and closed its doors. A sign on the front of the building gave this notice: "Legal holiday—bank closed." Rumors began to fly thick and fast, to the effect that the bank could not stand the financial strain which is now sweeping over the country.

In a short time statements were prepared, showing the condition of the bank, and expressing the hope that the depositors would get dollar for dollar when the final settlement was made. The question as to whether the bank will again open its doors is problematical. The matter is in the hands of the Oakland Clearing House and that institution, composed as it is of the leading financial men of this city, will see that the Union National Bank is given every possible chance to make good. If there is a chance on earth, the Oakland Clearing House will see that the Union National Bank will open its doors to do business at the proper time.

The amount of money due depositors on August 22, 1907, was $1,425,535. There was due the State banks at that time $241,051. President Charles E. Palmer of the Union National Bank, in a statement made to THE TRIBUNE this morning, declared the bank would reopen and the depositors would be paid dollar for dollar. It transpired also this morning that there was $75,000 of the county money in the bank, and that this was secured by $83,000 in Oakland school bonds.

Later information on the subject is to the effect that District Attorney Everett Brown and County Treasurer M. J. Kelly called at the bank and tried to get the money. They succeeded in getting $17,000 of other funds, but not the $75,000.

It is understood that the clearing-house committee of Oakland held a meeting yesterday afternoon and went over some of the assets of the distressed bank. It is stated that some of the securities were considered not bankable at this time. The committee, however, not desiring to do the bank any injustice, decided not to make any report but to go into the matter thoroughly. After a complete investigation is made the public will be given the full details.

The Union National Bank, since January 1, 1907, has been allied with the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company of San Francisco. J. Dalzell Brown, of that institution, was vice-president of the Union National Bank. It is said that the real cause of the bank's trouble is that J. Dalzell Brown took the money for use in the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company. Brown resigned from the Union National a few days ago. The officers of the Union National are Charles E. Palmer,

DECLARES THE BANK IS SOLVENT

It has been deemed advisable to close the doors of this bank pending the continuance of the legal holidays declared by the Governor. This action it is thought will best conserve the interest of the bank and its depositors.

All Oakland Clearing House Certificates Are Guaranteed and Secured By the Clearing House

The Clearing-house Committee of the Oakland Clearing-house Association deem it wise and expedient that the public should have a perfectly clear understanding in regard to the issuance of Clearing-house Certificates by the Oakland Clearing-house Association. These certificates have been issued by nearly every Clearing-house of prominence as a means of expanding the circulating medium, so that business in every way may proceed in the usual channels. The certificates issued by the Oakland Clearing-house are secured by first-class collateral with a large margin of security, passed upon by the Clearing-house Committee, deposited in safe deposit vaults under the control of the Clearing-house Association.

OTHER OAKLAND BANKS ARE NOT AFFECTED

OAKLAND BANKS NOT AFFECTED BY UNION NATIONAL CLOSING DOORS

President Palmer Is Sick at Home---Bank Officials Are All Optimistic and Exceedingly Hopeful.

"The brief statement which has been issued by President Charles E. Palmer is all that we care about giving out at present," said Cashier W. W. Crane when seen at the bank this morning. "Mr. Palmer is sick and confined to his home," he added, "and has been unable to visit the bank this morning."

President Bowles of the First National Bank said when interviewed regarding his personal views of the closing of the Union National said "I inquired into the condition of its affairs this morning, and it looks bright to me. I have a strong conviction that it will open in a few days."

Cashier Walters of the First National said "Our view of the closing of the Union National's doors this morning is that the institution is taking advantage of the holidays for the marshaling of its forces. We believe firmly that it will be doing business as normally as ever in a few days. Its temporary suspension does not affect any other bank in town, believe we are not disturbed in the slightest degree by it and this bank and all others in the city except the Union National Bank is doing business on a strictly normal basis. I don't think that the suspension of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Bank of San Francisco had anything to do with the closing of the Union National Bank. As I understand it, the two banks were not related directly in any business sense with one another and only indirectly in the public mind through the personal connection of J. Dalzell Brown with the two institutions."

HAS NO BAD EFFECTS.

"I know nothing about the affairs of the Union National," said William G. Henshaw, president of the Union Savings Bank. "The closing of its affairs does not affect us in the slightest degree, and I suppose that its officers and directors are simply taking advantage of the holidays declared by the governor."

"I am not acquainted with the affairs of the Union National," said Edward D. Collins, president of the California Bank, "but I have confidence that it will reopen business as usual as soon as the legal holidays declared by the governor are over. I think it is merely taking advantage of this holiday season to adjust its affairs."

As it became known that the county had funds on deposit at the Union National, County Treasurer M. J. Kelly was interviewed on the subject. He was found at his office in company with District Attorney Brown and in response to the direct inquiry how much the county had deposited in the bank and what security it had protecting the deposit, he said promptly "Seventy-five thousand dollars, and it is secured with $85,000 worth of Oakland school bonds."

The county is perfectly protected against any possible loss, added District Attorney Brown. "It couldn't have better security than Oakland school bonds and those held by the county treasurer over dollar for dollar of its deposits with an excess $8000 additional."

SAYS BANK WILL SOON OPEN

So Says J. Dalzell Brown.

Bank Is Sound—Never Had Any Stock Taken by W. P. Railroad.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—J. Dalzell Brown, manager of the suspended California Safe Deposit & Trust Company declared this morning that the suspended Union National Bank of Oakland would open within the next two or three weeks.

He stated that he owned about two hundred shares of the bank stock, but was not connected with it in any other way.

"The suspension is merely temporary," said he, "the trouble is caused by the inability of the bank officials to realize on their securities. The bank itself is sound. I own approximately two hundred shares of the bank stock. This is my only connection with it. The statement that most of the bank stock was taken over by the Western Pacific railroad is wrong. The Western Pacific has no connection whatever with the bank, neither has the California Safe Deposit & Trust Company. So far as I know I am the only official of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Company that owns any of the stock of the Oakland Union National Bank. I wish to repeat that there is absolutely no connection between the San Francisco safe deposit bank and the Oakland bank. I am satisfied that the Union National Bank will be able to resume business shortly."

President Palmer

Charles E. Palmer, president of the Union National Bank, is one of the best known bankers in Oakland. He has been associated with the institution from its organization about twenty-five years ago and, until about a year ago, had occupied the position of cashier from the time the bank started. About a year ago, the bank was reorganized through the retirement of Thomas Prather as president, and Mr. Palmer was then elected by the new board of directors as Mr. Prather's successor. He has always been considered as one of the safest and most conservative of the bankers in Oakland, and has enjoyed without interruption the confidence of everyone associated with banking in this city.

HELD ON TWO CHARGES.

Bob Shand, a cleaner and dyer of Berkeley, was arrested at 230 Sunday morning at Fourteenth and Broadway by Policemen Fleck on the charges of disturbing the peace and carrying concealed weapons. An ugly looking gun is held for evidence at police headquarters. Shand is said to have pulled the gun during an argument with a man named Murphy. The case was set for Nov. 13 by Judge Samuels, when complaint will be heard.

BANK OF WILLIAM COLLINS & SONS AT VENTURA HAS CLOSED ITS DOORS

VENTURA, Nov. 11.—The bank of William Collins & Sons of this city closed its doors today and a statement was given out that the bank is taking advantage of the holidays and that its future course will depend upon the decision of the Bank Commissioners, who will arrive here this evening.

The bank of Collins & Sons has long been considered one of the most substantial institutions of this county.

It has deposits amounting to over $400,000 from the farmers and business men of this section, but its assets far exceed this amount.

The immediate cause of the suspension is the fact that ready money was not obtainable, the inability of the farmers to sell their crops and of the bank to secure aid from its correspondents in San Francisco and other cities.

The Collins bank was established more than twenty years ago. D. Edward Collins of the Bank of California of Oakland is its president and J. S. Collins of this city is cashier.

SECURED SOME COUNTY FUNDS

Taken From Union National Bank This Morning by District Attorney Brown and Treasurer Kelly.

Very quietly and without the knowledge of half a dozen people District Attorney Everett J. Brown and County Treasurer M. J. Kelly this morning secured $17,000 of county funds which were in the Union National Bank.

Shortly before 11 o'clock the District Attorney entered the Farmers & Merchants' Bank and passing through their rear entrance completed his business with the closed Union National Bank. Ten minutes later he returned by the same route and, athlete as he is, was bowed over and straining with the weight of the money he had secured.

FEDERATION OF LABOR IS IN SESSION

Twenty-Seventh Annual Convention Begins at Norfolk

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 11.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the American Federation of Labor convened today for a session of two weeks. The opening ceremonies being held in the auditorium at the Jamestown Exposition where the day was considered as American Federation of Labor Day.

Though the weather was threatening the attendance was large. In the presence of 400 delegates representing the great army of organized labor in America, including every member of the federation executive council with the exception of John Mitchell, head of the United Mine Workers, detained by illness. President Comper declared the meeting open.

President Gompers responded in the name of the federation to various addresses of welcome.

The report of the credentials committee was the first business matter to come up. The program of the afternoon included the annual reports of President Gompers, Secretary Morrison and Treasurer Lennon. President Gompers said it was his hope to raise these today as well as other business of the federation, all sessions of which will be open to the public.

Victor L. Berger, the Milwaukee editor and Socialist leader, announced that he was continuing the fight against President Gompers and would file protests against his election on the basis that the disqualification of President Gompers could not be looked for at this time. Mr. Berger said he would tomorrow introduce a resolution demanding federal legislation preventing transportation in interstate commerce of all child labor manufactured products.

Arthur A. Hays, special representative of the International Typographical Union at Los Angeles, is here to ask the federation to assume control and finance the fight on behalf of labor now being waged by the Citizens Alliance of Los Angeles against trade unions there.

Among the delegates to the convention are representatives from Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

SCHOOLS WAIT ON STATE SUPREME COURT

Delay on the part of the Supreme Court to render an opinion on the subject as to the night schools of California being entitled to the same financial assistance as that given by the state to the day high schools is causing havoc in the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. A number of counties have found it impossible to pay the high school of teachers.

County Superintendents of Schools Fleck said today that in effect of the delay in this county is to hold up $10,000 in the high school fund. Otherwise things are normal.

STATE CONSTABLES TO MEET IN CONVENTION

Constables Bert Homestead Morris, Lin A. Kim and W. C. Allen left today for Berkeley to attend the convention of the constables of California. The object of the gathering is to strengthen the organization which has been in existence for many years and to discuss the various complaints that the constables have received from the public. The convention commences tomorrow to last four days.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the season took place Saturday evening at the home of O. A. Smith, 812 Athens street. The occasion was the birthday day of Mr. Smith. The house was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and smilax which produced a very pretty effect. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bacone, Mr. and Mrs. D. Knabbe, Mrs. William Dwyer, Mrs. Nellie Ramsey, of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Eyer, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Belden, Mrs. John Lehman, Mrs. Daniel Lehman, William McGrover, Mrs. J. Glaze, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. George Haimmilly, Mrs. M. D. Martin, Miss Lucella St. John and Leo Murphy.

WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 11.—In an interview today, Mrs. J. A. Hays, daughter of President Jefferson Davis of the Southern Confederacy said "I don't know anything about the contents of those letters for do I know whether General Grant and Thomas or Admiral Farragut ever applied to my father for commissions. I never heard my father make any mention of their having done so."

No knowing anything definite about the letters, Mrs. Hays said, she said that when these letters shall be opened I am going to New Orleans in February and shall take counsel with my friends and relatives before deciding upon any course. Since neither my father nor my mother made any mention of the letters, but natural that I should feel some deference about opening them or departing from the course my father thought fit to pursue. I don't see any reason why the letters should be made public just now.

When asked if she would express her personal opinion as to whether General Grant and Thomas or Admiral Farragut applied to her father for commissions, Mrs. Hays said that under the circumstances she would not in a position to express any opinion whatsoever.

COACH UPSETS AND TAKES FIRE

Imprisoned Passenger Rescued From Flaming Vehicle by His Wife

UKIAH, Nov. 11.—A disaster that came near being a fatality overtook the stage from Ukiah en route to this city Friday when the vehicle was run off the grade and toppled over an embankment that was eighty feet to the bottom a stump of a tree which was of sufficient strength to sustain the weight of the stage and passengers prevented the vehicle taking the entire plunge and the lives of the passengers were saved.

A new danger threatened them, however, for as the accident occurred about 5 o'clock in the morning the lamps which were carried at the side of the stage set fire to the vehicle. The overcoat worn by A. B. Searer caught fire and was almost burned from his body. He was imprisoned in the interior of the vehicle and for a time it seemed that he would be cremated.

SAVED BY WIFE.

In vain he tried to cut a hole through the roof of the stage with his pocketknife but the stout ribs of the top made with the purpose of carrying baggage and heavy loads prevented this. His wife finally managed to reach a helping hand to him through the boot and dragged him to safety. She and her children had gotten out of the vehicle by the same means of egress.

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Searer was seriously injured internally and may not live. The stage was practically consumed from the fire which threatened the lives of the passengers and two racks of United States mail was burned. The passengers claim that the accident was the fault of the driver.

BOGUS PARSON DUPES FARMERS

BITTANNING, Pa.—Mr. wearing ministerial robes and who was dressed in a buggy and hurriedly asked where they could find a minister as they are anxious to get married. The young man usually displays a roll of bills and the visiting parson trying to earn an honest dollar offers to marry the pair.

After the ceremony the visiting minister asks the farmer if he will witness the marriage certificate which the farmers have been doing. Later they are told that a promissory note is in the neighboring bank and they are called to pay up.

Next morning as the alleged preacher is ready to depart a young man and woman ride up in a buggy and hurriedly ask where they can find a minister as they are anxious to get married. The young man usually displays a roll of bills and the visiting parson trying to earn an honest dollar offers to marry the pair.

After the ceremony the visiting minister asks the farmer if he will witness the marriage certificate which the farmers have been doing. Later they are told that a promissory note is in the neighboring bank and they are called to pay up.

GHOST SCARES MANY PEOPLE

NFW CUMBERLAND, Pa.—Enola has a ghost a real live one. The superintendent of the Sunday School has seen it the wife of a prominent railroad conductor fainting with fright at the sight of it recently and, long. Sento a for-sight of a ghost and a pair of white legs yards has refused to leave his shanty for four days for fear of encountering it.

On Wednesday evening eighteen men surrounded Spongs woods and were sure they had Mr. Ghost cornered, but he finally evaded them and took refuge in a corn field. The next morning the farmer gave the men permission to cut off the corn but the ghost had disappeared only to return on the following night and frighten a party of young folks who were returning home from a party.

It is the general belief that the ghost is none other than an escaped inmate of the Harrisburg asylum for the insane, which is just across the river or a fit subject for that institution who with the aid of a sheet and a pair of white legs finds enjoyment in terrorizing the citizens.

WANTS COURTS OPEN HOLIDAYS

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 11.—Governor Gilbert said before leaving here for San Francisco this morning that he was adverse to calling an extra session of the Legislature and will not do so unless he is satisfied that the entire State desires it.

The governor further stated that if he does call for an extra session he will in corporate in the call a proposed amendment to the code permitting the courts to transact business during legal holidays.

WILL DISCUSS BOND ISSUE

Municipal Wharves and New City Hall Are Subjects for Wednesday Evening.

At the regular monthly meeting of members of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening the subjects to be discussed are the most important at this time. Councilman F. S. Jackson, who is the father of the proposed $5,000,000 issue of bonds for municipal wharves and the improvement by the municipality of the water front, will tell of the needs of such an issue, and Councilman Oliver Ellsworth, who is fathering the proposed issue of bonds for a new city hall, will advocate his pet project.

Just at this time the two subjects are uppermost in the minds of the voters and much valuable information will be the result of the addresses. After the principals have spoken, members of the chamber will be granted an opportunity to express opinions and by this means it is expected to ascertain the exact feeling of the public on these two important matters.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock and as it is the regular opening night of the chamber, members are requested to bring their ladies that they may view the splendid exhibit of Alameda county products while the members are attending the speeches and the subsequent debate.

ROPE SAVES FALLING MAN

Tumbles From Seventh Story, Grabs Cable at Third, Breaking Fall.

(Special Cable to the Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—A rope hanging to the side of the Corona Hotel, at Taylor street and Golden Gate avenue, was the means of saving the life of William Wall, a laborer living at 725 Nineteenth avenue, at 10 o'clock this morning.

Wall was working on the seventh floor of the building, when he lost his balance and fell, pitching headlong into space. He retained his presence of mind, however, and clutched the rope as he was passing the third story. He hung for a moment in mid-air, and then fell the rest of the distance to the ground, breaking his right leg.

He was removed to the Central Emergency hospital, where Dr. Tophan set the broken member and dressed numerous cuts and bruises. The man's hands were badly torn from clutching the rope.

SEEK TO CONSTRUCT ROAD TO PIEDMONT

Upon the recommendation of the franchise committee, a resolution was passed to print this morning by the Board of Supervisors, calling for bids for a franchise to construct and operate an electric railway commencing at Grand avenue and Broadway, through the grounds of the Claremont Country Club to Piedmont Heights.

The Oakland Traction Company made application for the franchise and it was referred to the committee, which recommended the advertising for bids.

An electric light was ordered placed on Bray avenue, near the schoolhouse, in Fruitvale. About 2500 residents of Fruitvale requested that the light be put up, and requested that the light be put up, impassable.

Mayor Taylor of Alameda sent a communication to the Board of Supervisors, asking that the Board improve the High-street, Fruitvale avenue and Park-street approaches to Alameda. The communication was referred to Supervisor Bridge.

PORTER FALLS FROM MOVING STREET CAR

F. Alexander, a porter, with his home at Emeryville, was treated at the Receiving Hospital yesterday afternoon for a scalp wound which he says he sustained in falling from an electric car at Emeryville. Warden Fago dressed the cut.

Joe Cook, a saw-filer, a new arrival from Chicago, caught his left foot between the bumpers of a freight train as he was alighting yesterday afternoon and had two toes of the foot badly crushed. He was removed to the Receiving Hospital by the trainmen, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. W. H. Rice. Cook stated that the ride cost him more than he had bargained for.

DE SAGAN, WHO COURTS MME. GOULD, IS EX-CONVICT AND MAN OF VICIOUS LIFE

IN 100 DUELS;
FORGED NAME

Paris Says Boni's
Ex-Wife Will Re-Wed.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—All France is still wondering what are the relations of Mme. Anna Gould and the Prince de Sagan. The report that she had dismissed him forever from the Chateau Marais was followed by the announcement that she was his wife. Then another denial followed, so that Paris doesn't really know what to believe.

It was announced Mme. Gould was too ill to be seen.

"Why concern yourself about such trifles?" ask the French analysts of women. "Only a fool would question that her love for this fascinating and monumental rake is abounding. He has out-Castellane Castellane. Boni was never as supreme in her affection, and although De Sagan is not married to her yet, he certainly will be."

CAREER UNIQUE.

The Prince de Sagan, according to his most intimate friends, was never in Boni's class of dissipation. His career transcends the most impossible exploits of that blond-haired exquisite and is looked upon as unique in a capital where extravagance is regarded as the distinguishing mark of the born aristocrat.

The house and line of the de Talleyrand-Perigord, Prince de Sagan, are found in every recorded form of iniquity. In his own equation of wickedness, however, Helie surpasses all his ancestors.

As an exemplar of all the things that make Paris synonymous with license, De Sagan stands without a peer. His reputation as a voluptuary makes that of Petronius seem amateurish.

Helie de Talleyrand-Perigord squandered two fortunes, which he inherited from his grandfathers, in maintaining twelve establishments in and around Paris. Stanford White borrowed suggestions from him in furnishing his New York retreat, and Boni de Castellane was one of his most slavish imitators. The arrangement of many little secret apartments maintained by Boni, which were revealed at the Castellane divorce proceedings, were miniatures of those originally established by De Sagan.

De Sagan, however, has not confined his activity to affairs of luxury and the heart. He has done almost everything that is wild and foolish. He once forced the name of Labarre, the sugar magnate, to letters of acceptance for large sums of money. For this he was sent to prison for nearly a year.

POWER OVER WOMEN.

He has always, however, been an idol of Parisian beauties and his power of fascination over women has been irresistible. What he has called affairs of honor have made him fight over a hundred duels. Duels, in fact, appear to be his diversion when time is not taken by his hands he insults some one and invites a challenge to get rid of the monotony.

Recently he smacked the face of Prince George Stourdza in the lobby of an opera and then wounded him when the opera was put to the test of blades.

Most of his recent duels have been followed by announcements of his engagements to some prominent woman or other, but something of note intervened to prevent his marriage.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—The Austrian tank steamer Eitelka, from Shields for this port, passed in the Delaware capes this afternoon and showed signals which it is supposed means she has on board the crew of the Italian bark Colombo. The bark sailed from Stockton Springs, Mexico, October 31, for Palermo. The report will be confirmed when the steamer reached Rocky Island, fifty miles up the Delaware bay.

HURLS BURNING FLUID IN FACE OF WOMAN

Yuma Mayeda, a Japanese woman, who lives at 277 Second street, was treated at the receiving hospital yesterday afternoon for painful burns on both eyelids. In her meager English she informed the hospital attendants that a Chinese admirer of hers, becoming jealous at her for some reason she could not explain, threw a "strong medicine" in her face. It was found at the receiving hospital that menthol was the liquid the Mongolian had used.

The Japanese woman, who is pretty and petite, said that the Chinese had come to her and told her to flee with him to Fresno. She said that as soon as the time, but to all his eloquence she turned a deaf ear. She was satisfied with her lot in Oakland and refused to leave. At this his temper rose and, taking a small bottle of menthol from his pocket, threw the contents at her. Most of the burning liquid was spilled on her clothing, but the young student received his degree, but their plans were blighted.

The fiancée of one of Stewart's college chums met Stewart and determined to win him. The young woman, believing that she could break off the engagement between Dr. Stewart and Miss Thompson, was credited with circulating rumors that Dr. Stewart was leading a double life. Soon after these stories reached the ears of Stewart's fiancée and her friends and they were dumfounded.

Finally Dr. Stewart heard of the stories. He learned who the real culprit was, but he made no attempt to take the stain off himself, knowing that to do so would be exposing the real culprit, a fellow student. Miss Thompson demanded an explanation of Dr. Stewart, but he refused it to protect his friend.

Mrs. Stewart, the doctor's mother, finally heard of the threatened breach and made the necessary explanation.

MME. ANNA GOULD AND PRINCE DE SAGAN, WHOSE LOVE AFFAIR KEEPS ALL PARIS TALKING.

ANNA GOULD OFFICIALLY DENIES ANY ENGAGEMENT

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Madame Gould today authorized the Associated Press to deny the reports that she is engaged to be married to Prince Helie de Sagan or to anybody else.

His most interesting engagement was to Madame de Gast, the most dazzling widow in Paris, who goes in for ballooning, motor racing and other exciting sports.

De Sagan wounded an advocate who had the temerity to introduce in court a figure of a woman posing in no other drapery but a black mask and claiming that the figure was that of Madame de Gast. The duel put an end to the lawsuit that was pending, but Madame de Gast shortly afterward broke off her engagement with De Sagan.

One of the prince's most remembered escapades was a dinner he gave at which all the Parisian beauties of note assembled. At the conclusion of the dinner

FALSE TALE NEARLY BREAKS ENGAGEMENT

WOBURN, Mass., Nov. 11.—The engagement of Dr. Vernon C. Stewart of this city to Miss Carolyn Louise Thompson, daughter of E. Frederick Thompson, an Oakland, Cal., millionaire broker, brought to light a romance blighted by jealousy. The couple met at a Columbia University social gathering and an engagement followed. The wedding was to have taken place shortly after the young student received his degree, but their plans were blighted.

The fiancée of one of Stewart's college chums met Stewart and determined to win him. The young woman, believing that she could break off the engagement between Dr. Stewart and Miss Thompson, was credited with circulating rumors that Dr. Stewart was leading a double life. Soon after these stories reached the ears of Stewart's fiancée and her friends and they were dumfounded.

Finally Dr. Stewart heard of the stories. He learned who the real culprit was, but he made no attempt to take the stain off himself, knowing that to do so would be exposing the real culprit, a fellow student. Miss Thompson demanded an explanation of Dr. Stewart, but he refused it to protect his friend.

Mrs. Stewart, the doctor's mother, finally heard of the threatened breach and made the necessary explanation.

JURY IN FORD CASE MAY BE DISCHARGED

If Legal Holidays Are to Continue
Judge Lawlor Will Take Action.

(Special Cable to the Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—If the legal holidays proclaimed by the Governor continue much longer, the Ford jury may be discharged. This point, however, has not yet been decided by Judge Lawlor. When questioned regarding the matter, Judge Lawlor stated that he had arrived at no decision in regard to the matter, and would have to learn definitely from the Governor how long the holidays were to continue before taking any action.

The fact that most of the jurors are business men and that during the present financial flurry their business needs their attention, is appreciated by the court and the attorneys on both sides. Every effort is being made to divert and amuse the jurors, but the sheriffs who have charge of the twelve men, state that their charges are worrying over the continued delay. The suggestion has been made that the jurors be allowed to go to their homes until the holidays end and the case again starts.

It is not thought, however, that this will be done. The general impression is that if the jurors are allowed to go home they will be discharged and the case will have to be tried over again.

FORD DISAPPOINTED.

The attorneys representing Henry L. Ford reached the temple shortly before 9:30 o'clock. Earl Rogers, Alexander C. King, Stanley Moore and Louis F. Byington arrived first. Ford came in a few minutes later. He stated he had watched the Stanford and University of California game and felt refreshed and ready to see the trial proceed. He expressed himself as being disappointed at the delay.

O'Gara represented the prosecution. He never appeared, looking as dapper and smiling as ever, conversed with Louis Glass, whose immobile face never seemed to break into a smile.

CASES GO OVER.

Judge Lawlor announced he wished to communicate with the Governor before fixing a date for the continuance of the trial. O'Gara stated that the district attorney's office had been in communication with the Governor's secretary who had informed them that the legal holidays would last until Wednesday, at least. He declared that Thursday might be a legal holiday, although he could not state this positively. Judge Lawlor then continued all the cases until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Knowing that the case would not go on, the jury was not brought into court.

FOOTBALL MEN REFUSE TO BE VACCINATED

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Commissioner of Health Evans today issued an order that all members of the football team of Chicago University be vaccinated. The members of the team declare they will not be vaccinated and the Commissioner has asserted that if they refuse to obey his orders he will cause the arrest of somebody. The Chicago men have a game scheduled with Carlisle November 23, and they fear the effect of vaccination on the men's condition.

Two students of the university were today taken to the isolation hospital suffering with smallpox, one of them being a member of the freshmen football team.

The latter said that Hugo Bezdek, assistant coach of the team, refused to allow him to be vaccinated even after he had been in contact with a student who had the disease.

Commissioner Evans declared later that this afternoon he will send physicians to the university to vaccinate the members of the football team, and that if objections are made he will stop all football.

RAISE MEAL PRICES TO ALMOST DOUBLE

BUTLER, Pa.—High cost of living has taken another jump in Butler, and for the first time today hotels and restaurants advanced rates 40 per cent, as agreed upon at a meeting of sixty hotel keepers and restaurants. While the rates had been advertised in the county papers, there was general complaint among the patrons.

There are 700 families in Butler that have been taking their Sunday dinners at the hotels and restaurants. The Butler and Pittsburgh trolley line also brings a large patronage into town on Sundays, and there was a noticeable falling off in the business from these sources.

Officers of the organization of bonifaces declare that the high price of food products and supplies in Western Pennsylvania made such an advance in the price of meals absolutely imperative.

WOMAN RAGES IN COURT ROOM

"I'd Like to Break Your Neck,"
Cries "Young Dempsey's" Spouse.

Annie Omerad, wife of "Young Dempsey," the pugilist, created a mild sensation in Judge Smith's court this morning when, upon leaving the room, she made a threatening move toward J. W. Hazzard, a retired farmer living on Myrtle street, who accuses her of robbing him of a pocketbook containing $50.

"I'd like to break your neck," she said. "I'd like to slap your face, any way," she added, when detectives rushed in to prevent any injury to the gray-haired complainant.

Mrs. Omerad was held to answer to the Superior Court, chiefly upon the testimony of Hazzard. The latter claims that Mrs. Omerad took the money while he was with her in a room in the Atlantic House, Franklin street, on the night of November 3. The pugilist's husband of the complainant is in Los Angeles, where he is charged with highway robbery.

ASKS RECEIVER FOR ARIZONA SMELTING CO.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 11.—Application was made to Judge Lanning in the United States District Court here today for the appointment of a receiver for the Consolidated Arizona Smelting Company. The application was made upon behalf of Frank L. Crocker, of New York, who alleges that the assets of the company are in a chaotic state due to attachments in Arizona and he charges insolvency.

BURNED BY ACID.

Elmo Zumwalt, a 15-year-old student who lives at Richmond, was burned about the face this morning while experimenting with a bottle of nitric acid. He was treated at the receiving hospital by Steward Borchert.

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 11.—In a long article the Marin County Tocsin accuses county Board of Supervisors, and especially charges its members as being in tentative and incompetent to disburse county funds. Criticism of the severe nature is directed toward the action to cooperate with the county.

FIGHT FOR HER HONOR WITH FIENDS ATTACKED IN LONELY SPOT One Assailant Is Known to Them.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Crying, screaming and praying for help, that seemed as though it would never come, Mrs. Agnes Cunningham of 243 Clara street, writhed and struggled in the grasp of veritable fiends who had knocked her down and assaulted her as she was returning to her home at 9:30 last night, and who were only frightened off when they heard the rapid approach of two policemen, who came on the double quick to the rescue.

Mrs. Cunningham says she was walking west on Clara street, when just as she came opposite No. 161 she was seized by two men, one of whom had bright red hair, and thrown to the ground. She struggled with them, they still held her, and as the night was particularly dark and there were few persons on the street, no one came to her rescue.

At length her cries attracted the attention of Policemen Tracy and Lofgren, who were standing on the corner about a block from the scene. Hearing someone approach the two miscreants took to their heels and were soon lost in the darkness. After aiding Mrs. Cunningham in getting to her home, the officers made a thorough search of the neighborhood, but could not succeed in locating the men. A neighbor of Mrs. Cunningham told the police the name of the man who is described as having bright red hair, and the officers expect to land him to-day.

SHADE TREES KILLED; JURY SAYS $333 EACH
WILKES-BARRE, Pa.—Three shade trees in front of a residence in this city are worth $333 each, so a jury decided to-day after hearing for three days the suit of Mrs. Lena Cohen against the Wilkes-Barre Steam Heating Company.

Mrs. Cohen contended that the heat from the company's pipes killed the trees, and detracted from the value of her residence. The company asserted that the trees were killed by worms, and in any case they were of little value, because South Main street is rapidly changing from a residential to a business street.

The jury awarded Mrs. Cohen $1000.

Death of Judge Gives a Brief Respite to Miss Anna E. Bradley

MRS. ANNA E. BRADLEY.

MURDER TRIAL IS POSTPONED TILL TOMORROW

Woman Who Killed
Senator Appears in Court.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—On account of the death of Justice McComas of the District Court of Appeals, Criminal Court number where Mrs. Bradley was to have been put on trial today on the charge of murdering former Senator Arthur Brown of Utah, took an adjournment until Wednesday at the same hour, 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Bradley was in court, as were also her attorneys and many witnesses, and all was in readiness for the trial, so there can be no doubt that it will proceed on Wednesday.

The announcement of Judge McComas' death was made by Prosecuting Attorney Baker, who moved the adjournment. The motion was seconded by Mr. Wells, of counsel for Mrs. Bradley, and was readily granted.

DRESSED WELL.
Mrs. Bradley came into the court room soon after the entrance of Judge Stanford, who will preside over her trial, and was accompanied by a member of the marshal's staff. Her entrance was so quiet that it was unnoticed. She was dressed in black and took a seat on the left of her counsel, Mr. Wells. The court room was crowded and not since the Bonine trial has so much interest been manifested in any case before the district court.

Although she is to be called upon to withstand one of the most severe ordeals through which a woman can pass, Mrs. Bradley is calm, hopeful, even confident. She has able counsel, headed by Judge Orlando Powers of Salt Lake City.

MAKE NO DENIAL.
It is understood that the defense will not attempt to deny the actual fact of the murder. Even admitting that Mrs. Bradley killed Senator Brown, there are many who believe her not wholly to blame. They point to her love for Brown and the treatment accorded her by him, his desertion of her and replacing her with another woman, and her fear for the future of her sons, whom he frequently acknowledged.

This other woman, Mrs. Annie Adams, mother of Maude Adams, whom, it is said, Brown came to Washington to marry, is expected to be a witness for the State, for it is believed that Brown confided in her in regard to Mrs. Bradley. The defense, it is believed, will produce evidence of a quarrel between Brown and Mrs. Bradley, and will show that the revolver with which Brown was shot was given by him to Mrs. Bradley in Salt Lake City during their last meeting there. But the principal bulwark of the defense will be Mrs. Bradley's abnormal state of mind at the time of the shooting. This, they will try to show, was due to her fear that Brown intended to desert her and her two sons.

Cudahy's Engagement Declared Cancelled

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A wedding that was looked forward to with interest in Chicago and Pittsburg society was announced cancelled by the young woman's mother yesterday without explanation. The persons interested are Miss Sabel Pentecost, a Pittsburg heiress, and John Cudahy, Jr., son of the Chicago packer. Miss Pentecost's father was a merchant of Pittsburg, who left a large estate to his widow and daughter. John Cudahy, Jr., is 22 years old and is working in the Louisville Packing company's office, a plant controlled by his father. The engagement was announced last summer. The acquaintance began at Mackinac Island, where the Cudahys have a summer home.

BADLY BEATEN AND ROBBED

Three Highwaymen Make Victim of Man Overlooking Valuables.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—After being waylaid, beaten and robbed by three men whose acquaintance he had made a little while before in Crowley's saloon, twenty-fourth and Polson streets, Max Argo, a bartender, with blood streaming from man ugly wound in the temple, staggered into the arms of Policeman Madison, a little before 3 o'clock this morning, and was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital for treatment.

Argo, who works in Hubbs' saloon, Eighteenth and Valencia street, says that he stopped for a few moments in Crowley's place on his way home. While there he met and had several drinks with three strangers and he believes they became possessed with the idea that he had considerable money on his person. After leaving the saloon Argo proceeded down Twenty-fourth street, and says he had gone only about half a block when he received a stinging blow in the face, followed by another in the right eye, and he says he was being attacked by the men he had met in the saloon. He says he struggled with them, but they succeeded in getting away with his purse, which contained only a small sum. They evidently overlooked his watch, which is a valuable gold time piece of an expensive make.

Oakland Man Is Robbed Across Bay

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—August Hoffmann, who lives at 14 Eighth street, Oakland, was held up, assaulted and robbed of $5 and a watch on Jackson street, near Montgomery avenue, at an early hour this morning, by four men, who succeeded in making good their escape.

Hoffmann reported to the police that he was walking down Jackson street about 2:30 o'clock when he was approached by four men, who went through his pockets, taking all his property and then throwing him to the sidewalk. He reported the affair to Officer Springer, who after taking Hoffmann to the Harbor Hospital for treatment, made a search for the robbers, but without success.

FROM FATTED CALF TO JAIL

Feasts, Then Arrests His Wayward Son on Burglary Charge.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Gustave Bluthardt welcomed his wayward son home last night, placed before him a bounteous feast, and then, while the boy was eating, summoned a policeman by telephone to arrest him on a charge of burglary.

The father, notified the police last Friday that the night before his home had been entered and $1000 worth of articles taken, and that he was positive his son, Fred, 15 years old, was the burglar. The convincing fact, he said, was that the Newfoundland dog, which had been kept by the family for years, had permitted the intruder to roam about at will without giving tongue. The dog, he declared, would have attacked a stranger and aroused the family with his barking.

TO REDEEM SON.
Bluthardt, who is a wealthy cigar manufacturer, said he had hesitated to report the matter to the authorities, but adopted the Spartan course because he believed it the only means for his son's redemption.

When the son, penitent and distressed, returned with appeals for forgiveness last night and a confession of guilt on his lips, the forgiveness was not withheld, but the father, his heart wrung with pity for him, was inexorable in his determination to adopt drastic means for his reformation.

Rescues His Family From Burning Home

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Arthur B. Meeker, general manager for Armour and Company, was called upon to battle with a fire in his home early yesterday morning. He became the leader in saving his four children and ten house servants from the flames. He himself rescued three of the children and Miss E. Udel, a governess, saved the fourth.

DISCOVERED BY GOVERNESS.
The fire, which caused damage estimated at $25,000, was discovered by Miss Udel in the nursery on the third floor. She had been awakened by the coughing of two of the children, Arthur Jr. and Mary, who were asleep in the room. Though their coughing probably saved the lives of all in the house, they themselves continued to sleep soundly as Meeker and the governess lifted them from their cots and bore them from the room, the father carrying Arthur Jr. and the governess the little girl.

TWO OTHERS.
Katherine and Grace, the other two children, were sleeping in a room on the second floor, and the father bore both these in his arms at one time.

Meeker did not awaken Mrs. Meeker until he had satisfied himself the children were safe.

When all the rescue work was done, Meeker telephoned the fire department.

$51,831,000 GOLD SPECIE

Total Amount Up to Date;
Wall Street Tone Is Cheerful.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The week opened with a cheerful tone in the financial district. The two trust companies against which there had been several runs, were transacting business on a normal basis today, receiving deposits and paying out money on checks as though nothing had ever happened out of the ordinary.

The flow of gold from Europe to the United States continues. The first engagements of the metal for import announced today were by the Mercantile Trust Company of St. Louis for $500,000, and by the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago for $200,000. Both engagements were made in London. The St. Louis engagement is said to be the first instance in which a financial institution in that city has taken gold direct from London. The total engaged since the beginning of the financial stringency is thus brought up to $61,831,000.

GOT ALL THE GOLD.
The United States secured practically all of the $5,000,000 gold offered in the London market today. There was little competition for today's offerings and the American bankers secured the precious metal at a price 58d. per pound sterling cheaper than the price of last week.

The stock market showed a steady tone during the early trading, considerable investment demand for stock being reported by brokers.

PRICES GO DOWN.
LONDON, Nov. 11.—The United States secured practically the whole of the $6,000,000 in gold available today in the open market. In the absence of competition the price was reduced 5-8 to 7s. 1 1/2d.

Perfect Child Tips Scale at One Pound

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—One of the smallest and most perfectly formed infants of premature birth ever known to medical science lies contentedly in a diminutive incubator in the room of its mother, Mrs. Edna Hess, wife of Charles E. Hess, a civil engineer. The baby, when born, October 19, weighed little more than a pound, and measured but fourteen inches in length. Over its perfectly formed wrists its mother easily slipped her wedding ring. During the three weeks that have elapsed the baby has gained only a few ounces and now weighs but a pound and a half.

BEAUTIFUL BLONDES PASSING AS TYPE.

Nature is Slowly Changing the Complexion of the Human Race.

"The blondes are a disappearing human type," said an anthropologist of the Smithsonian institution. "They are going fast. Blonde women are becoming scarcer every year, and today there are not nearly so many fair-haired and blue-eyed beauties as there were fifty years ago. In each successive generation there are fewer of them than in the last. Already such a thing as a real blonde, purely such, is so rarely seen in this country as to excite remark, and golden tresses are so infrequent that veritable ones are usually suspected to be dyed. In short, it has become evident that before long this type of feminine loveliness will have practically vanished from the earth."

You may judge how rapidly the blondes are going when you consider the fact that wherever a brute man marries a blonde woman or vice versa, 50 per cent of the children born have dark hair and eyes. At that rate not many centuries will be required to wipe out the fair type altogether. If you ask how this matter has been determined with such accuracy, I will reply that it has been by including statistical observations on the point in the courses of nations.

TELEGRAPH STRIKE IS DECLARED OFF

Local No. 34, by Vote of 105 to 39, Ends the Tie-Up.

The telegraph strike is over. Yesterday afternoon, at a meeting of local No. 34, Commercial Telegraphers of America, held at Sunset Hall, a vote was taken on the question of ending the strike. By a vote of 105 to 39 the men decided to return to work. This includes the telegraphers employed in Oakland and San Francisco.

MCANGLISH TALKS.
The telegraphers strike in Alameda county and San Francisco is temporarily suspended, said W. W. McAnGLISH of local No. 34, Commercial Telegraphers' Union. "By a rising vote taken at yesterday's meeting, held in Sunset Hall, West Oakland, the striking operators voted in favor of suspending the strike. The vote stood 105 against and 39 for suspension. The telegraph officials have given the operators several concessions, namely, eight hours a day, but as yet I cannot say positively as to the remainder of the concessions. Many of the operators returned to work today. It is supposed that the majority of the operators will be accepted and return to their respective duties in the telegraph companies within the next week or two."

Many of the striking operators have been successful in procuring employment in other lines of work, and it is presumed that if they apply individually to the telegraph officials they can secure their old positions.

Safe Deposit Bankers to Make This Possible.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—The Board of Bank Commissioners, which is examining into the affairs of the suspended California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, may not report this week. This statement was made by J. C. Ewing, secretary of the board. Ewing stated that it was practically impossible to say when a report would be made, but that the board was confident that the company would be re-opened. "Mr. Walker, Mr. Brown and other officials of the bank give us every assurance that the company will be able to comply with all demands and reopen very shortly," said Mr. Ewing. "This they say they will be able to do with the aid of their private fortunes and money which is being sent out from the East. They are being afforded every opportunity to resume business, and it is probable that the bank will soon open. When this will be I cannot say, but it will probably be soon. It is impossible to say when our report will be ready. There is an immense amount of work involved which must be gone into thoroughly. It may be soon, and then again it may not be until the end of the week. As soon as the legal holidays end something must be done."

on strike some months ago, will not return to work in a body, indeed, may not be able to go to work at all with their former employers.

President A. H. May, when seen this morning, stated that he had not heard that the men had intended applying for reinstatement, but that if such were the case they would not be given preference over any others who might seek employment with the company.

"We have no intention of discharging the men who have stood by us through the difficulties attendant upon the strike," said Mr. May this morning. "If we have need of men we will employ the first who apply without reference to whether they have been our employees at a former time or not."

The Financial Situation.

A large influx of gold into New York from across the Atlantic has given great relief to the financial situation in the East. The stringency in the coin supply is gradually but steadily relaxing and the Treasury Department gives out the assurance, based upon the personal reports of New York bankers, that every difficulty in the money market will be soon adjusted.

It is not at all creditable, however, to the leading New York bankers that they failed to keep faith with the Secretary of the Treasury when he came to their relief in the recent flurry and through the timely aid he extended helped materially to prevent widespread disaster as the result of their own recklessness in Wall street speculation. According to representations now emanating from the Treasury Department, the financial assistance extended to these financiers was with the distinct understanding that the money was to be used to help out and protect the country banks, where it was most needed for the legitimate purposes of removing the crops. If this had been done, as it was agreed it should be done, through the deposit of funds in New York to the credit of these country correspondents, they would have been able to meet all legitimate requirements and the stringency of ready money could have been localized instead of being spread broadcast all over the country. But once transfers were made from the treasury to the metropolitan banks, the latter diverted it to their own uses and left the country at large to take care of itself as best it could.

The recent events are also bringing to light some other peculiar and discreditable methods employed by New York national bank officers and directors which are leading some of them into trouble with the government and may be the means of landing some of them in the penitentiary, for the practices uncovered have revealed the grossest violation of the national banking law. One thing is certain, recent events promise to introduce reforms in New York banking methods which will curb the improper diversion of deposits confided to their keeping and the abuse, through misuse, of the credits granted to them under the national banking laws.

But while the process of readjustment of the financial situation is in progress, depositors in all banks must be reasonable. It is to their self-interest that they should be so, as well as to the interests of the banks in which their deposits lie. In a time like the present one no greater folly can be committed by any depositor than the withdrawal of his money from the bank when he does not need it, and thus withdrawing it from general circulation and preventing its use by others where it can do the most good. An example like that is vicious as well as ruinous. If carried out generally it would destroy the soundest bank in the world, for the reason that it would be impossible for them to convert their securities, however good they might be, into coin to meet the call. The success of banking depends upon public confidence so that deposits may be used in legitimate channels for profitable returns. The whole system of banking is built upon public confidence. Any man who attempts to destroy is an enemy to society. Taking the banks generally throughout the country they were never sounder than they are today, never had as large and valuable resources in their possession, but it is essential that they should be given reasonable time to readjust the situation and prevent their resources being impaired.

Last Phase of Dreyfus Case.

After suffering over four years of physical and mental torture under an equatorial sun on Devil's island, as the innocent victim of a villainous conspiracy of bigoted anti-Semites who stopped not at the commission of any crime in order to accomplish their desired end, Dreyfus has been retired from the French army on a measly pension of $470 annually. When the Esterhazy forgeries and plot were exposed, Dreyfus was exonerated and restored to the army and as a salve to his wounded pride and a sop for his sufferings, he was promoted from the captaincy of artillery, which he held before he was court-martialed and publicly degraded, to a majorship, which a wrecked nervous system and broken health prevented him from holding but a comparatively short while. Now he is given a mere pittance as a pension to support his devoted wife and family, as he is probably incapacitated from following any civil occupation. The Dreyfus case, in every aspect of it, has been a discreditable affair to France, and the last phase of it does not help it out in the least.

That the banks of Sonoma county should have taken a leaf from the banks located in the bay cities and organized a clearing-house of their own, and, in imitation of the San Francisco and Oakland clearing-houses, issued clearing-house certificates in order to relieve the shortage of ready coin, is not a matter of surprise. The reasoning is sound that if the issuance of clearing-house certificates is a good thing for the banks in one city it ought to be equally good for those located in the interior counties. The Sonoma county clearing-house is, however, restricting the circulation of its certificates to that county alone. The county is, however, wealthy and the banks there have ample resources and the consolidation of the latter in a clearing-house for self-protection is a measure of strength.

The election of Lord Avebury, better known as Sir John Lubbock; the distinguished naturalist, as Lord Rector of St. Andrew's University over Andrew Carnegie, who was a candidate to succeed himself, goes far to show that the latter has lost caste in Scotland through the recent exposures of frenzied finance, with which the acquisition of his enormous fortune has been more or less tainted. Moreover, a public sentiment had taken firm hold in university circles that it was discreditable to retain in the Lord Rectorship an expatriated Briton.

Small matters have affected the fate of nations in all ages. Now comes the news from Berlin that an abscence in the ear of Emperor William of Germany drives him to the Isle of Wight for surgical treatment, but it has been the means of establishing the most cordial relations between the crowned heads and the people of the two nations. For years the relations between Great Britain and Germany have been severely strained—at times almost to the breaking point. Now, they are throwing bouquets at one another, all through a case of royal earache.

The insecurity of life is ever present before the mind of the Czar of all the Russias. He is being repeatedly reminded of the fact by the Terrorists who are plotting against him. The consciousness of having again escaped possible death will not help to quiet the previously shattered nerves of his imperial majesty.

LOOKS LIKE ANOTHER CAR CROP FAILURE

A patriotic American negro distinguished himself at Olongapo, island of Luzon, by giving a Japanese who had exalted the flag of the Rising Sun on the Mikado's birthday above the Stars and Stripes such a thorough trouncing that he had to be taken to the hospital for repairs. But the Filipino police unfortunately took cognizance of the breach of the peace committed by the negro in the exuberance of his loyalty to the flag and hustled him to jail. It is presumed, however, that the committing magistrate took a correct view of the incident when the case was brought before him for hearing, by discharging him from custody with the simple admonition not to be so severe next time in voluntarily administering punishment to any violator of international ethics. The Jap was, however, doubtless taught a wholesome lesson.

If anything goes wrong with the battleship fleet in its cruise from the Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific Coast, the world will be deprived of the knowledge of who was responsible for it unless it comes out later through the agency of a court-martial, for the reason that no newspaper man is to be allowed aboard unless he can get there as a stowaway. It wouldn't be surprising, however, if some enterprising fellow should manage to break through the censorship and turn up with a scoop. There are plenty of ambitious young men in the profession who would be willing to take the chance of an enlistment as ordinary seamen in order to accomplish their purpose. It is just such achievements that bring fame to those who accomplish them and give spice to the business.

A fellow-feeling makes us wondrous kind. For instance, the Santa Cruz Sentinel is heartily in favor of granting immunity to blackmailers and low crooks generally. It will be turning State's evidence next.

WIFE, LOCKED IN, VAINLY FIGHTS FOR LIFE; 2 DIE

Woman Shot Down by Insanely Jealous Husband, Who Then Blows Out His Brains.

Locking himself and his eighteen-year-old wife in a small bedroom at the home of the woman's parents yesterday afternoon, J. Carl Ehlers, a street car conductor, mad with jealousy, shot and killed the woman with a revolver, and, turning the weapon against his own temple, ended his life.

Ehlers went to the home of the girl's father, Peter Thomas, at 510 Twenty-fourth street, shortly after 1 o'clock and called for his wife, who had been separated from her husband for the past three months. With her ten months' old child in her arms she entered the room and conversed with her husband in the presence of the family until 4 o'clock. Ehlers then called her into the bedroom, stating that he wished to talk to her alone. Leaving the baby in the arms of the grandmother the young wife went to the room which was destined to be the scene of her doom.

HEAR STRUGGLE.
The aged father and his gray-haired wife, suspicious and fearful of some violence, heard the lock click. Sounds of a struggle followed almost instantly, and then the three fatal shots. The tragedy had taken place before they could make the least effort to prevent it.

Grabbing the child from the arms of his terrified wife, Thomas rushed to the street and called loudly for help. Detective St. Clair Hodgkins was passing Twenty-fourth street on a Telegraph avenue car and heard the cry. He rushed to the house and broke down the door to the room where the shooting had occurred. He found the woman lying on the floor dead, with three bullet wounds in her body, and the man, also dead, stooping over the body of his murdered wife. Tightly clutched in Ehlers' hand was a .32-caliber revolver with all five chambers empty. Powder smoke and bruises on the woman's arms and her torn clothing and the disarrangement of furniture gave evidence of a struggle between the two before the fatal shots were fired.

LIFE WAS THREATENED.
The dead couple were married July 26, 1905, when the girl was barely sixteen years old. They had lived together until the three months prior to the shooting and the murdered woman's mother gives as the reason for the separation, that Ehlers was a consumptive. Mrs. Ehlers had been living at 525 1/2 Jackson street, near Powell, San Francisco, and the husband had visited her there several times. He had threatened to kill her while calling there last Friday and fearing lest some violence should come to her or the baby, she had not slept in the place since. Only yesterday she told her mother that she went to a drugstore to purchase carbolic acid with which to end her life, which she said had become miserable, and met with refusal from the druggist.

GOOD REPUTATION.
Ehlers had a mother in Elmhurst and a small brother and sister in a San Francisco orphanage. Among the carmen employed by the Oakland Traction company he enjoyed a good reputation. Since last July he had worked on the University avenue line in Berkeley. He lived in Forlath street, and was known in that neighborhood as a sober fellow. Yesterday was his day off duty.

MOVING GOLD UNDER GUARD

Chicago Banks Getting Their Quota of Money From the Government.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Acting under telegraphic instructions from the Treasury Department in New York $3,000,000 in gold coin will be transferred today from the sub-treasury to the vaults of the First National Bank. The transfer will be made under police guard. The weight of the gold to be moved is about 12,000 pounds.

The Illinois Trust & Savings expects to add $1,300,000 in gold to its currency store tomorrow. This is also a part of the shipment of gold received last week in New York from London.

The question of Clearing House checks which are being demanded by all the railroads centering in Chicago and by the Chicago Association of Commerce representing Chicago merchants, probably will be taken up again by the Clearing House committee today. The committee has said that if the demand was strong enough these checks will be issued. It is expected they will be received as currency by all business houses and by transportation lines.

THE NEW CHECK.
The engraving of these checks is completed, and copies of the four denominations that may be issued will be shown to the members of the Clearing House at once.

The present tightness in the money market has hit a number of saloons in the outlying districts in an unexpected and tender spot.

For years it has been the custom of large concerns to pay their employees in checks. These checks the neighboring saloons would cash for them, their brewers furnishing the money. The saloonkeeper got his profit out of the fact the workman he obliged would naturally spend some of the money with him before going home, and the brewer gained by selling more beer to the saloonkeeper.

But when one brewer sent to its bank the other day for a large amount of currency to meet this monthly call, its cashier was told the bank could not spare it. Other banks were as obtuse in meeting the demands of other brewers, and the result has been the saloonkeepers do not have the money to cash the checks of their customers on pay day and lost trade in consequence.

TRAVELER ALLEGES HE IS ROBBED IN SALOON

Fred Hines, who gives his address as San Francisco, appealed to the police yesterday to recover $60 in gold a ticket on the Western Union and a passenger ticket which were taken from him, he alleges, in the saloon of William Kane, at 454 Sixth street.

GIRL VICTIM OF CONSPIRACY

Helen Maloney Said to Have Fallen Into Plot of Designing Britishers.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—"Helen Maloney was the victim of the so-called English marriage syndicate which has been publishing stories which could not help but place the girl in the worst possible light."

"This quasi-defense of the eloping daughter of Martin Maloney, was offered for her by Timothy Hurley of Spring Lake, also an old friend of the Maloney family."

"Ever since this affair became public," he continued, "the newspapers have been publishing stories which could not help but place the girl in the worst possible light."

"Not one word of defense has been published for the American girl, who has been victimized by a busted Britisher."

CONSPIRACY VICTIM.
"When the exact facts are told, if the Maloney family decides to tell them—and I hope they do—you will find that this girl's elopement was deliberately planned in England by a coterie of months before it occurred. Helen Maloney had been abroad many months. I consider her a beautiful girl and so do others. She was always handsomely gowned and attracted the attention of some of those people on the other side who need the money."

"Unfortunately for her and her family she went abroad in the spring with her mother, thus placing right into the hands of these parasites."

"Early in the summer before Clarkston called her. You can hazard a guess as to the nature of the message, for she answered it by one word, 'No.'"

"Helen Maloney is not one of the weak-minded sort, nor the impulsive sort to be moved by a slight impulse."

shows signs of lagging. This does not mean that they are habitually hoars, but merely that when a man has an ideal in his head which he is struggling to realize on canvas he is not likely to consider himself or anyone else.

"The model must be in close sympathy with the artist. She must be prepared to pose in all sorts of weather, in costume and out, and if she isn't nice and pleasant about it she bothers and distracts the artist so much that he cannot afford to have her around. Sometimes she is his best critic, and will unhesitatingly tear his morning's work to pieces without experiencing a qualm. If she knows what she is talking about he will listen and heed, and if his judgment concurs he will scrape out the offending portion."

LOVELY GIRL

SAVED LIFE

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Miss Harriette Rayner of New York and Albert Higgs of Mount Vernon were married at the "Little Church Around the Corner" on April 14 last.

After keeping their happy secret for half a year Mr. and Mrs. Higge announced their marriage to their friends. A well-mated young couple they are; he a young athlete and national guardsman, saved her from drowning; so she, lovely girl, gave Miss Rayner, with several young people from New York, was bathing at Rye Beach on Saturday afternoon two weeks ago. She is a good swimmer and was not satisfied to splash around in the shallows where her friends remained. As often as she swam out she found young Higgins, a splendid swimmer, there. As much lucky it was; for when she had ventured out Miss Rayner was seized with a cramp and shrieked for help. Higgins was quickly at her side and took her safely to the beach.

When she revived the girl overwhelmed him with thanks; he protested that any man would have done no less. The beauty of the one, the other's modesty and bravery, deeply impressed them. At her invitation Higgs visited her in her home here. Last winter, whenever the basketball team to which Higgs belonged played in the Mount Vernon Arena, Mr. Raynor, seated in the gallery, applauded.

Their marriage was kept secret on account of the fact that because Miss Raynor's parents thought her too young to wed.

Mr. Higgs is connected with the engineering department of this city. He and his bride will live at Mount Vernon.

pendent living in a congenial manner, and so come again. In consequence the women who pose for a livelihood in New York are exceedingly nice as a class. The prevalent idea that the words "artist's model" necessarily means a highly paid, greatly petted, and utterly depraved individual is ridiculous in the extreme. A first-class artist's model in New York city receives three dollars a day for six hours' hard work. A photographic model has, of course, a different proposition. She has shorter hours and higher rates.

"A young woman who thinks studio life is made up of chafing-dish parties where she can look charming in a dainty little apron, or who expects to be driven to an expensive restaurant in a hansom cab when she becomes hungry would better not plan to adopt posing as a profession. A tin of sardines, a box of crackers, and a cup of studio tea is more likely to be the luncheon menu, and if the artist happens to be buried very deep in his canvases when luncheon hour comes around, he/she never so hungry, he is apt to tell her to 'straighten up there. Where do you think you're at?' If she

BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 11.—"Get the money first," is the substance of a ruling just handed down by Judge Holt. From this time no more C. O. D. divorces will be issued in Beaver county. It has been found that there are hundreds of persons divorced in this county who could not prove it because they never got the papers. Judge Holt has discovered scores of divorces in which the papers were not taken and the costs paid. This has caused the judge to say from the bench, "Hereafter this court will grant no decree in divorce until all costs have been paid."

ing in California at present, and in pursuance of her plan all of the local people who have achieved literary distinction will appear on the program and will read short excerpts from their successful works.

Dr. Edward Robeson Taylor, mayor of San Francisco, will preside, and among the others on the program will be Mrs. Albertson, Miriam Michelson, Joaquin Miller, Charles Warren Stoddard, Lucius H. Foote, Mrs. Fremont Older, Herman Whitaker, James Hopper, Mary Austen, Hermann Schnauffer, George Sterling, Frances Charles, author of "The Land That God Forgot," Warren Cheney and many others.

William Keith, California's most famous landscape painter, has given a picture which will go to the person who draws the lucky seat number among the tickets. Charles Warren Stoddard has written a song, and Lucius Foote another. W. J. McCoy is setting Foote's song to music.

Another who is expected to attend is Luther Burbank, and there is to be music by the Bohemian Club quartet. The list of patronesses will include a number of well known society leaders, and the affair promises to be unique and most enjoyable.

By order of the board of directors, President F. W. Hall of the Bohemian Club has appointed the following committee of members to take charge of the arrangements: James D. Ebelan (chairman), Willie Polk (secretary), Joseph D. Redding, Wm. Greer Harrison, Chas. S. Atkey, Dr. H. F. Stewart, Allan Dunn, Miss Colbrith is the only woman member of the Bohemian Club.

ENGAGEMENT PARTY.

Miss Lilla Ware was hostess at a most delightful card party on Friday evening, making the occasion a most interesting one by announcing to her guests her engagement to Russell Galloway. The house was elaborately decorated with cut flowers, greens and college colors in pennants and such streamers, and the evening was a very merry one. Both young people are exceedingly popular in college circles.

Only the members of the two fraternities were present, the Chi Omega, of which Miss Ware is a member, and the Alpha Tau Omega, to which Mr. Galloway belongs.

"BI-BI."

"Bi-Bi," the "Comedy of toys," which is to be presented by Ebel on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, was written by Charles Barnard, the famous London playwright, and was produced under royal patronage at the Drury Lane Theatre six years ago. The production immediately took rank with the foremost musical extravaganza successes of the day, and the comedy has since been produced hundreds of times.

John B. Rogers, who is directing the Ebel production, owns the American rights to "Bi-Bi" and has been highly successful in presenting it, as in Oakland, with high grade amateur talent.

About one hundred young people are to take part in the production, among them Mrs. Beaulieu, Mrs. Carroll Galvin, Miss Ruth Woodbury, Mrs. Welles Whitmore, Miss June Connor, Mrs. George Flint, William Barton, Frank Huss, John McCallum, Leo Wells, Mr. Graydon and hosts of other local people who sing or dance as well.

Ebel has been most fortunate in securing the best available talent, and Mr. Rogers is much gratified at the progress made by the entire company.

EUROPEAN WANDERERS.

Mrs. R. T. Kennedy of Berkeley, with her daughters, the Misses Marguerite, Mary and Jean, are at present in Amsterdam, but they will leave very shortly for Paris, where they will spend the winter. Friends here are receiving interesting accounts of the delightful experiences of the party in the old world of their leisurely trip through Ireland and England and their pleasure in the changing scenes. They have recently joined another party of four tourists and are going to continue their journey with them, a most fortunate circumstance, as Mr. Kennedy was called home about a month ago by the death of his son-in-law, John Scudell, of Ventura.

Mrs. Kennedy and her daughters will complete the trip as planned by them when they left here in July and will not plan to return until the spring.

CHILDREN'S PARTY.

Florence and Mary Holmes entertained a happy group of their little friends on Saturday afternoon at a fancy dress party. Charades, games and a delightful luncheon helped to make the hours most enjoyable for the little folk. Among those who attended were Alleen Parsons and Grace Sandford, who came as Little Red Riding Hood, Erna Casey as a pretty German peasant, and Housa queen, Florence and Marie Parsons were Daisy Dances, Herbert Sandford was Santa Claus, Lee Parsons an Indian chief, Finley Cavanaugh a Swiss girl, Priscilla Cavanaugh a quacker, Helen Hoyt a gypsy queen, Elena Cavanaugh an Indian warrior, Leonard Houts a jockey, Harold Mason a ballplayer, Mary Holmes, Japanese girl and Florence Holmes was Martha Washington.

MRS. BEACH SOULE, WHO TAKES THE LEADING PART IN EBELL'S PRODUCTION OF "BI BI."

The mother of the small hostess, Mrs. Reginald D. Holmes, did much for the pleasure of the children, and the party dispersed with sincere expressions of appreciation.

FAMILY DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Henrichson entertained at dinner yesterday in honor of the hosts nephew, Antone Henrichson, who arrived from Germany last week. A party of relatives made up the group at the table, and the guest of honor was made to feel very welcome. Decorations of yellow chrysanthemums and greens made the table most effective. The young man intends to locate in Oakland, and will be associated with Frederick Henrichson, who is a well-known business man of Oakland.

A DAUGHTER.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Lee Prosser are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a small daughter, who recently joined their household. Mrs. Prosser was formerly Miss Nellie Walsh of Stockton.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

Miss Maude Mitchell announced her engagement to Osseo Piercy on Saturday afternoon at a very pretty luncheon given to a group of girl friends at her home on Thirty-fourth street.

The announcement was a complete surprise, and the manner of imparting it was in keeping with the spirit of fun with which the bride-to-be has kept her secret. In the center of the table was a red bell with red satin ribbons leading to each place. Cards inscribed with clever toasts were attached to the ribbons, and each girl read aloud her toast for the amusement of the others. To Miss Etta Fetherhoff fell the pleasure of reading not a toast, but the announcement of the engagement. The wedding will take place in January or early in February.

Among the luncheon guests to whom Miss Fetherhoff read the news were Miss Etta Fetherhoff, Miss Ruth Aldersley, Miss Louise Enghy, Miss Edna Rutherford, Miss Housa Porterfield, Miss Esther Porterfield, Miss Fannie Fetherhoff, Miss Hazel Nalbitt, Miss Ida Schroeder, Miss Elsie Campbell, Miss Edna Little, Miss Elsie Hesse, Miss Marina Turner, Miss Gertrude Bruns, Miss Myrtle Marsh, Miss Lillian Jennings, Miss Mae Markham and Miss Clara Phillips.

CIVIC CLUB.

The executive board of the Woman's Civic Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Turner, 276 Oakland avenue, this afternoon. Topics of general interest along the lines of the club's work formed the base of the afternoon's discussions.

ENGAGEMENT.

At a very delightful party given on Friday evening at the home of the C. R. Shows, of Fruitvale, the announcement was made of the engagement of the daughter of the house, Miss Evelyn Shaw, to Jesse Cameron.

The bride-elect is very well-known locally, having lived in East Oakland most of her life. The family recently moved to their new home in Fruitvale. Mr. Cameron is a newcomer, who came from British Columbia, where he was established in the jewelry business, and is planning to locate here. He is said to be a splendid fellow, and is rapidly winning the good will of his associates.

About sixty friends of the young people were present at the engagement party, and the guests read the news from little heart-shaped place cards, a vivid red in color. Decorations of red blossoms and ribbons and candleabra served to give the home a festive appearance on the occasion and the evening was a very happy one.

Plans for the wedding are still in the making, but the bride-to-be has decided to be married on Christmas night, the anniversary of the wedding of her parents.

HOME FROM THE SOUTH.

Mrs. E. M. Christensen of 573 Thirtieth street has returned from a six weeks' pleasure trip to Los Angeles and other points of interest in Southern California, where she had a most enjoyable time, and comes back much benefited from her vacation to the South.

WANT HUMANE SOCIETY TO HOLD MEETING HERE

All the directors of the Oakland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals were present at the November meeting held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Matthews. Arrangements were being made whereby a new humane officer will enter the service of the society this month. In all probability he will be unformed. Officer Herold will act up to the time the change is made.

Dr. T. Carpenter gave a brief talk on the improved condition of the Alameda public pound of which he is executive officer. Under the new regime, complaints regarding impounded animals are very few, and general satisfaction with the conduct of the pound is expressed.

WANT CONVENTION.

The matter of inducing the American Humane Association, a federation of the humane societies of the United States, to hold its next annual convention in Oakland, was discussed. These annual meetings are for the purpose of uniting and diffusing a knowledge of humane sentiments and methods, and form a national clearing house for progressive thought and experience. The secretary, Mrs. Laurence Gronlund, who is an officer of the American Association, will confer with the humane societies of the coast and the local civic bodies with a view to enlisting their interest and co-operation. In the eastern and middle west cities in which these conventions have been held in the past, great interest in them has been manifested. Many and special inducements are always offered by the competing cities.

The officers of the society are: Mrs. Frank Soule, vice-president; Beulah A. Groulund, secretary; Mrs. W. C. Ralston, treasurer; Dr. Tom Carpenter, veterinarian.

Directors—Hon. W. C. Ralston, Mrs. William Keith, Mrs. Frank Soule, Mrs. A. P. Holland, Mrs. T. C. Jenkins, Mrs. J. H. Matthews, Mrs. A. McCartney, Mrs. Allen Clay, Dr. T. Carpenter.

WAR CRAFT MAY USE AIRSHIPS

Aeronaut Predicts U. S. Will Equip All Fighting Vessels With Ethereal Fleet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Captain T. Lovelace of the Aero Club of America, one of the men who participated in the successful flight of the balloon Pommeron from Philadelphia to New York Saturday, predicts that within five years American men-of-war will be equipped with airships. Captain Lovelace said:

"Now that the United States Government has become interested in aerial navigation as an aid to naval operations, I do not hesitate to predict that within five years every fleet of warships belonging to Uncle Sam will be equipped with an auxiliary fleet of airships."

"As the outcome of many conferences held with Admiral C. M. Chester and other Government officials, the widespread interest manifested by naval officers in the project, work will be begun next week for the erection of the largest aerodrom in the world, at Fort George, from which point trials will be made to demonstrate to the Government the practicability of the kind of airship we now have."

The airship is the one equipped by Dr. Thomas, and which I thoroughly tried out last summer at Jamestown. It is the largest in the United States, having a total length of 128 feet. That airship would prove a serious factor in any war was foreseen by the last Hague conference, when resolutions were submitted barring the dropping of explosives from airships."

NOTICED AT HAGUE.
Lieutenant Robert M. Henderson of the battleship Missouri will represent the navy at the coming experiment of the new airship. The recommendations to Congress for an appropriation which will be submitted through Secretary of War Taft will contain a report by Lieutenant Henderson of the aerial experiment.

That airship would prove a serious factor in any war was foreseen by the last Hague conference, when resolutions were submitted barring the dropping of explosives from airships."

SHE WAS PLEASANT, BUT TOO FOND OF GEMS

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—C. A. Filmer, a photographer, with place of business at Forty-eighth avenue and 14th street, is mourning the loss of a $35,000 watch he valued highly and which disappeared shortly after he had received a visit from a beautiful customer, with whom he is said to have spent a pleasant hour.

Filmer said that yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock the young woman who is described as about 25 years of age, pretty, of medium height, with light wavy hair, came into his office and inquired about having some pictures taken. The two chatted together pleasantly for some time, and at length the stranger asked for a glass of water. While Filmer was procuring the same for her she took the stick pin, which was lying handy and left the place. He did not discover his loss until some time later, when he reported the matter to Officer Harrington.

MINING CONGRESS IN SESSION AT JOPLIN

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 11.—The American Mining Congress was called to order here today in eleventh annual session. Several hundred delegates were in attendance, representing all parts of the country. The gathering will last through Thursday and many important questions will be presented for discussion. Numbers of prominent mining men are on the program for addresses.

CHESTNUT BURR DROPS IN BOY'S MOUTH; STICKS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Harold Boyer, 14 years old, of 423 Righter street, held his mouth open and a chestnut burr dropped into it. The burr stuck so tightly that the physician had much work in removing it.

CHARGES STIR G. A. R. OFFICER

To Withdraw Statement That Grant and Farragut Sought Confederate Commissions.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Colonel James E. Stuart, past vice commander of Illinois, G. A. R., issued a challenge last night to the Louisiana Historical Association to produce the letters alleged to be in its possession which said that U. S. Grant, Admiral Farragut and General Thomas at one time offered their services to Jefferson Davis in the Confederate army.

The challenge follows the statement made in Baltimore, Md., on Saturday by Captain A. L. De Rosset of Wilmington, N. C. Captain De Rosset, through the medium of the Confederate Veterans, the official organ of the Confederate societies, said the historical association had in its museum original copies of letters which these three distinguished Union officers wrote to Davis' General Grant is said to have written to Davis applying for a commission January 18, 1861.

Commander Stuart says: "The challenge follows the statement made in Baltimore, Md., on Saturday by Captain A. L. De Rosset of Wilmington, N. C. Captain De Rosset, through the medium of the Confederate Veterans, the official organ of the Confederate societies, said the historical association had in its museum original copies of letters which these three distinguished Union officers wrote to Davis' General Grant is said to have written to Davis applying for a commission January 18, 1861."

CONTENTS UNKNOWN.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—In regard to an article published in the Confederate Veteran to the effect that General U. S. Grant, General George H. Thomas and Admiral Farragut had applied to President Jefferson Davis for the confederacy for commissions immediately before the outbreak of the civil war and that their letters are in the possession of the Louisiana Historical Society, Colonel Stuart, custodian of Memorial Hall in this city said:

"Mrs. Jefferson Davis consigned several packages of letters to the care of the hall and these are to be opened only when the authority is given us to do so. This authority rests with her daughter, Mrs. Hayes, of Colorado Springs. I don't know the contents of these letters."

TO MAKE CORRECTION.
NASHVILLE, Nov. 11.—S. A. Cunningham, publisher of the Confederate Veteran, stated today in regard to the publication that Grant, Farragut and Thomas had applied to Jefferson Davis for commissions in the Confederate army, that at the time of the publication of Captain De Rosset's communication in the Confederate Veteran, he had not seen the original of the statement and an investigation had convinced him that it was erroneous. As a result of the investigation, the December number of the Veteran will contain a correction.

PLAN TO CALL HALT ON GOTHAM SKYSCRAPERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The doom of the modern skyscraper has probably been sounded in this city by drastic regulations which have been adopted unanimously by the Building Code Commission. These regulations provide that after January 1, next, no new buildings shall be over 250 feet in height.

Then we lay is aimed to stop the feverish race for the construction of high buildings. That a limit must be fixed somewhere has been the advice of noted life underwriting experts and Fire Chief Croker himself has sounded the warning. The insurance interests have feared that the forty-story Singer building might be followed next by a fifty-story structure.

MUST CALL HALT.
That the new regulation will be passed by the Board of Estimate and the aldermen before it finally becomes a law is regarded as likely, since several of the city's best known builders are members of the commission who voted for it. They all agreed it was advisable to call a halt in the construction of forty-story buildings, though Theodore Starratt, who is a member of the commission, expressed the opinion that a skyscraper could go 700 feet high and be perfectly safe, provided it was of real fire proof construction.

More than two-score of the city's best known skyscrapers exceed the dead line fixed by the new line. These buildings will not be affected by the proposed regulations.

RUSHING WORK ON WARSHIPS

Preparing Fleet to Sail for the Pacific Coast December 16.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Beginning today the force at the New York navy yard will work night and day in order to have the battleships now being fitted out for the Pacific voyage ready by December 1st to proceed to Hampton Roads, from which they will sail on December 16th. They are the Connecticut, flagship of the fleet, and the Louisiana, Ohio, Rhode Island and Alabama.

Rear-Admiral C. C. Sperry, who was designated a few days ago to command the fourth division of the fleet, hoisted his flag on the Alabama. This assignment completed the division and squadron commands, the others being Rear-Admirals Thomas and Emory. Admiral Evans, commander-in-chief of the fleet, is in personal command of the first division.

RAILWAY TICKETS OF GOLD.

All the principal railway companies issue railway tickets, made entirely of gold, which entitle the holder to travel free by any class of car and train, on any line and by any system in the United States. They are made of gold, but not of gold in shape, and engraved with the particular railway company's coat of arms, with the holder's name, rank and title, and are intended to be worn on water chains. These tickets cannot be bought, but are presented by the directors to persons who have earned the railway companies' gratitude.

Starvation Sits At Loaded Tables

You Can Lead a Dyspeptic to The Table, but You Cannot Make Him Eat.

There comes a time in the lives of a great many men and women when even a simple steak ceases to be poetry. It becomes a problem. The stomach becomes a cruel and cruel. Nothing on the bill of fare can coax it.

It is a cruel and cruel. Nothing on the bill of fare can coax it. It is a cruel and cruel. Nothing on the bill of fare can coax it.

What if a Man Gains the Whole World—And Loses His Appetite?

Today with dyspeptic stomachs. They wear a dejected, forlorn appearance, their energy is at zero, nothing interests them, and they are interested in no one, their faces are shrunk, their nerves are wilted and their shoulders sag.

Everything on the table may look delicious, but nothing will be tempting, that one sure sign of dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do that very thing. They contain a most powerful and efficient which helps the stomach in the process of digestion, cures dyspepsia, sour stomach, indigestion, heartburn, eructations, acidity or fermentation. They invigorate the stomach, increase the flow of gastric juice, and do away with all that which will take hold of the food as it comes in and do the digesting and let your stomach face a rest.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Is acknowledged to be the most successful remedy in the country for those painful ailments peculiar to women.

For more than 30 years it has been curing Female Complaints, such as Inflammation, and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and consequent Spinal Weakness, Backache, and all ailments adapted to the Change of Life.

Records show that it has cured more cases of Female Ills than any other remedy known.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage of development. Dragging Sensations causing pain, weight, and headache are relieved and permanently cured by its use.

It corrects Irregularities or Painful Functions, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility; also, Dizziness, Faintness, Extreme Lassitude. "Don't care and want to be left alone" feeling, Irritability, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Flatulency, Melancholia or the "Blues." These are sure indications of female weakness or some organic derangement.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a most excellent remedy.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is well qualified to guide sick women back to health. Her advice is free and always helpful.

LOCAL BANK RECEIVES GOLD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Three hundred thousand dollars was transferred to this city through the treasury this morning. This gold was consigned to six different banks, four of them in this city. An Oakland bank received $100,000 and another amount went to a bank in Seattle.

Bankers were not disposed to credit the dispatch received from New York yesterday that a large shipment of gold has been started west for San Francisco and will arrive here within a few days. They do not understand why gold should be shipped out here when it can be more expeditiously transferred through the sub-treasury by telegram.

FIND NOBLE SPECIMEN

ROCKY MOUNTAIN SHEEP

DENVER.—The finest specimen of mountain sheep ever killed in Colorado now in possession of the fish and game department of the State. The animal was shot near Kremmling by a wabston sportsman and left upon the spot where it fell. To kill a mountain sheep is punishable by a fine of $600, and the slayer dared bring it in.

The carcass of the animal was found by Deputy Game Warden T. S. Farris at Hot Sulphur Springs. It had been partly destroyed by coyotes. He shipped the head and such portions of the body as could be handled to the State game commissioner in Denver.

The head of the sheep measures sixty inches around the base of the horns and thirty-six inches from the base to the tip of the horns. The curve tapers gradually. The horns and head weigh thirty pounds. It is estimated that the carcass of animal weighed between 200 and 300 pounds.
